

RECOMMENDED READS

READING HACK does #LoveToRead

Be part of something big. BBC #LoveToRead is a national campaign to get people reading and sharing the books they love. Get involved by doing and sharing this hack.

WHAT IS IT?

Recommend a book to others that will improve their wellbeing.

HOW DO YOU DO IT?

Recommend a book to somebody else in a creative, imaginative way; this could be a book that's lifted your mood or helped you through a difficult time. Reading is a fantastic way of supporting your wellbeing. Sharing the reads that have helped you can help others too – it could be a riveting read that will capture their imagination, characters they'll fall in love with or a front cover that will make them smile every time they see it.

Get some inspiration from Reading Well: a collection of books that can help you cope with the pressures of life, boost your confidence and help you with difficult feelings and experiences.

You can find the complete Reading Well book list on www.readinghack.org.uk/readingwell.

SOME IDEAS:

- Make a book trailer
- Share a photo on Instagram
- Make a poster
- Tweet on the #LoveToRead hashtag

WHAT DO YOU NEED?

You might need a camera – your phone will do.

MAKE A PROFILE ON www.readinghack.org.uk

Create a profile to share and record the hacks you've taken part in, and you'll be able to download a skills letter recording your achievements. You'll also find lots of exclusive author interviews, competitions and book recommendations.

SHARE ON SOCIAL MEDIA

Tag @ReadingHackers and use the hashtag #LoveToRead to join thousands of other people who will be posting about their favourite books.

 @ReadingHackers #LoveToRead

 @ReadingHackers #LoveToRead

Reading Hack is a programme for 13-24 year-olds that turns reading on its head.

Young people do reading activities and volunteering, called 'hacks' to gain skills and experience.