

Reading Hack does #LoveToRead

Using the Reading Hack website

About the Reading Hack website - www.readinghack.org.uk

Reading Hack turns reading on its head. Create your own hacks, meet new people, build your skills and inspire others to read.

www.readinghack.org.uk is designed by young people for young people. Record all the hacks you've taken part in - reading, volunteering, blogging, filming and creating.

Why join?

Volunteering or joining groups in your community make you stand out from the crowd in college, uni or job applications. The Reading Hack website can help you record your achievements to support your CV, or personal statement.

You can also:

- Find and share ideas with other Reading Hackers across the country.
- Download a skills letter with all your achievements and hours volunteered, for your CV.
- Apply for up to £250 of funding for your Reading Hack group
- Enter competitions to interview authors and win books, popcorn makers, vouchers and more.
- Shape the future of Reading Hack - give us your feedback to enter our prize draws.

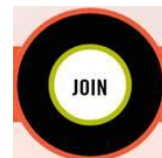

Sounds great – how do I do it?

Visit www.readinghack.org.uk to record your volunteering hours and other Reading Hack activities. It's easy and only takes a few minutes!

Step 1: Sign up and create a profile on the Reading Hack website.

SIGNUP/REGISTER

Step 2: Join the #LoveToRead volunteering hack or one of the three #LovetoRead activity hacks. Or create your own!

Step 3: Use the activity log on each hack to record how many hours you spent volunteering or hacking, and to leave comments for other Reading Hackers.
